About This Content

Purchasing Gnaw will permanently unlock this character in Awesomenauts. The character can also be purchased with Awesomepoints in-game.

Gnaw is a moderately-challenging harasser that applies poison through biting and spitting at enemies. He is also able to create Weedling mini turrets. He comes equipped with the following abilities:

- Spit out a sticky spray of acid goo that damages enemies over time.
- Bite your enemies to gather Growth parts, then use those to grow a Weedling mini turret.
- Use Gnaw's filthy maw to bite and infect your enemies!

Skroggle infestations have been reported on over a dozen planets. The highly adaptable Skroggle physiology allows them to thrive in almost any atmosphere. Skroggles are omnivorous and their bizarre metabolism enables them to vomit plant-like creatures that excrete volatile acidic spores.

Gnaw was taken from his homeplanet as a Skroggle specimen by Kremzon scientists. But Gnaw was not a beast that could be caged: his acid-breath melted his holding pen and Gnaw started to rampage through the science facility where he was held. No-one knows exactly what followed, but the facility was found 12 days later, abandoned, and overgrown with some sort of weird, toxic flora.

Gnaw was eventually noticed by a passing band of Amphibian cosmic biker-pirates. Gnaw was in need of some friends, and he was taken in by them, nurtured and trained to fight in black-market exotic-alien arena fights. Occasionally his masters sell Gnaw's "services" to any war general that is desperate enough to set loose the rabid, chitinous menace upon the battlefield.
